COMMENCEMENT DAY AT MONMOUTH

CHRISTIAN COLLEGE MONMOUTH June 14 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

On Saturday afternoon—the 13th of June—arrivals of strangers and friends began to attract attention Salutations from the old familiar faces came round to many a returning student and the quiet little city of Saints' soon wore the smiles of its friends

Sabbath day morning dawned upon a hundred houses nestled in every case the witchery of Nature in her thousand forms—the ever lasting hills west of town clothed in green foliage of oak—the Druid s tree the undulating prairie east by under the sun s earliest ray and Singing gently toward Willamette in the far Cemetery Hill in the south looked fresh and beauteous but yet the dead are there Smiles of Nature allured us every where, tempting us to sit on the sacred walls of the church—let the rocks and brooks be sermons the melodies of birds be songs and the gratitude of men be praise However at an early hour the chapel was well filled to listen to words of wisdom from above The Baccalaureate Sermon was expected but this is not the custom here the taste is eminently Western and the teachings of Lord s Day every way spiritual The services were various consisting in 1st Sabbath School—and a good one

2d Songs of general worship prayers a few words from young brother Wolverton. The remarks of the beloved President Campbell found hearts to receive them and the Apostles blessing hallowed the dismissing audience—and we are again in the world We should be glad to give you details of this semi country Sabbath but we pass on to the weightier matters that ushered the duties of the new week

On Monday examinations in mathematics and the classes progressed favorably visitors were in to cheer the boys and help reward them for their studious efforts The classes were especially thorough in Geometry and Algebra and certainly they compare favorably with the best

In the evening the

ASSOCIATE ALUMNI

Gave their open session The classes of '71 '72 '73 and '74 were present and the second Annual Reunion was indeed a pleasant affair. The graduates proper preceded by the Faculty marched from the old class room up the stairway along the aisle and what a fine appearance they made! Their footsteps fell full to the sound of music and a well decorated stage receives them The oncoming graduates were next in like manner marched into the hall and were introduced to the Association Invocation by the President then the various exercises interspersed with music

First—W D Benton of A B s '72 delivered an address upon Friendship and was highly appreciated we judge from the shower of bouquets and the rounds of applause

Next—Miss Nancy Springer, of the class of '71 recited an original poem "Legend of the Nile" Her voice is not good but the subject matter bespoke poetic talent

Mr A P Campbell class of '73 spoke to us of the "Responsibilities of Alumni" and for fifteen minutes delineated the practical burdens awaiting the educated mind His views of higher female education were sound and the field of the cultivated woman was plainly shown

Miss Mary Stamp, of the class of '72 read an elaborate and finished essay upon the "Rise and Fall of Empire" This was the most classical effort of the evening and marked a mind well—yes well stored—with historic lore She retired with the laurels of the Association and the hearts of her audience

C E Wolverton, of Albany graduate of '72 held the assembly for twenty minutes listening to his flowery address upon "Fame" The speaker warmed with his subject and we have not the least hesitancy in saying his was the most polished effort but less practical

Benediction by Prof J C Campbell when the Association, with Faculty and invited guests left for the supper given by the efficient Mrs Lindsay We were there and know the affair was highly relished by all The table literally groaned under its luxuries its good things The dining hall was richly festooned and dishes of flowers centered the festive board

Music and lively conversation continued to a late hour and as Tuesday morn approached the young hearts and old heads the gay and grave cemented to a pause in the joys and "Home Sweet Home" sounded in the midnight air a kind good night and pleasant dreams to all

A CHURCH UNION CONVENTION

TO THE FRIENDS OF ORGANIC CHURCH UNION

Dear Brethren Since the publication of my Address on the Unity of the Church in the Oregonian of March 11 I have received quite a number of letters from different parts of the country both encouraging and otherwise, all of which I have carefully considered. And from the expressions of correspondents seem to fall into two classes, those who are with the subject Now I feel that the public mind is ripe for such a convention as I suggested Town gatherings at the usual quiet time of the year do not seem to me the best time for the discussion of the principles involved in the organic union of the churches I see no reason to doubt the public mind in both ecclesiastical and other parts of the United States and that the love of one family of Christ and one fold and one Shepherd is gaining ground rapidly among the lovers of the Savior.

Now I propose that we Christians here in Oregon meet in Convention and discuss something like the following questions viz

1 Is visible unity of the Church of Christ scriptural?

2 If so can it be consummated

3 Is it the duty of Christians to commence the work?

4 What are the best means to be adopted

5 What would be the probable results of such union

6 What shall the united churches be called?

Now I invite responses from brethren favorable to calling, such a Convention and request them to mention time and place And so soon as sufficient number to constitute a respectable meeting, shall have responses I will publish the result with time and place.

It appears to me that such a meeting as this would do good and also help edify and interesting to those participating. Truly ally

THE DISTRICT INVESTIGATION—Special Washington dispatch of June 16th Mr Robert Ingalls counsel for the memorialists before the District Investigation Committee to day filed his argument in answer to the briefs of the counsel for the Board of Public Works It is an able and brilliant production He pitilessly dissects the present condition of the District affairs.

Then cry now is the ship is hopelessly on the rocks Hang the engineer cast the purser into the yawning waves with his stubs around his neck drown all the rest but save the captain chiefly responsible for the direful calamity and build and place him in command of a stronger ship'

And of Alexander H Shepherd the Captain he says

Wealthiest as the Director unselfishness that Alexander Shepherd was the trailblazer among the Argonauts gold among gnomes that he towered above the ship's crew He has displayed just such stuff as tyrants are made of—self poise iron will and indomitable resolution But for the possession of these very qualities he must be held to the strictest accountability and responsibility as a public officer and the severest the condemnation he must receive at your hands

The people of Union county having contributed in money and labor a sum equal to $3 200 are of the opinion that as Walla Walla is largely interested in having a good wagon road across the mountains that citizens there should contribute at least their share and in further aid of this Mr Woodward a prominent citizen of Union county has been selected to call upon the business men of Walla Walla for subscriptions

The owners of the principal hay ranches in the Walla Walla valley have formed a combination by which they agree not to sell their hay under a certain figure This is in order to protect the farmers against a certain class of operators who put in bids at a low figure and then expect to make a good thing by compelling the farmers to take less than a living price The owners of the hay ranches have determined to break up this imposition and they are right

On Saturday afternoon last while Mr John Chambers of Tenalent Prairie was absent from his house for a few hours it was entered by some person prying up the sash and getting in at the window and articles to the amount of twenty five dollars carried off. EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENTS.

Oregon is not alone in suffering the evils of unequal assessment of property in different counties Exactly the same impediment to an equal and just distribution of the burdens of taxation is perplexing other communities, and they are trying the same remedies with which the Oregon Legislature has begun to experiment If our success in treating the case has not been such, thus far as to give the greatest encouragement to further effort it has by no means demonstrated the impracticability of reaching good results through a State Board of Equalization of some kind First endeavors are not always successful even when the general principle on which they proceed is correct Subsequent modifications made in the light of experience, frequently make that a success which seemed a failure at the first trial And this is especially true of revenue and police legislation

What the State Board of Equalization of New York say, in their report of the Assessors and assessments in that State, is as true of Oregon as if written expressly for this State

The local Assessors in the various counties are generally men of intelligence candor and fairness desirous of doing their duty and, at the same time everywhere conceding that they do not come up to the requirements of the law in the assessment of property, real or personal, yet averring that if they would gladly do so could it be made universal It is entirely plain to us that each town and every county is striving to so assess as not to be above their neighbors, except in the town of Lindley Steuben county where and only where we found the statute fully complied with The open and frank avowal was everywhere made that the law was ignored and the oath regarded as a mere form In many cases however conscientious Assessors are troubled about subscribing and making oath to a statement they know to be untrue and various devices are resorted to in order to quiet their minds One Assessor stated to us that he made oath to his assessment roll because he believed all the real and personal property in his town, if offered for sale in one body, at auction and sold at one bid for gold down, the price would not exceed the sum at which he had assessed it.

Every one who has had much to do with the subject in Oregon, will recognize the above picture at once, with only such slight variations as "the town of Lindley, Steuben county," introduces Oregon has unfortunately, no Steuben county, and consequently no town of Lindley, that we are aware of. Of the completed work of the Equalization Board, or, as they are denominated in New York, the "State Assessors," the Albany Journal, well known as one of the leading papers of the Empire State speaks in the highest praise It says they did more last year to equalize assessments than has been accomplished before, besides collecting a great mass of facts illustrating and explaining the evils of the present system, which will be useful in further perfecting assessments in the future The State Board is an old institution in New York, but it was never successful until it was organized as it now exists

The same evils in the system of assessment attracted the attention of Governor Ferry, of Washington Territory, and he called attention to them in his message to the Legislature in October last, recommending the same remedy He said

> Assessments according to the actual value are plainly and clearly contemplated [by law] but experience has shown, in this Territory as elsewhere where similar laws exist, that assessments are seldom made on this basis, under present laws, the whole subject is left with the Commissioners in the several counties and although great disparity may exist in one or more counties between the actual and the assessed value of property no remedy is provided This being the case, it must be obvious that a revisory board is necessary to equalize assessments in the several counties in order that taxation may be equal and uniform throughout the Territory If real and personal property is assessed in one county at its full value and in another at one-half its value, the taxpayer in the former will pay his just proportion of Territorial taxes while the latter will pay only one-half I would, therefore, recommend that a Board be created to equalize assessments in the Territory The number of which the Board shall consist and the manner of their election or appointment I leave for your consideration

The existence of the evil is undisputed, and there is, so far as we can discover but one way to reach and remove it That one way is through a State Board of Equalization Let the members elected to the next Legislature take hold of the subject with an earnest purpose to avail themselves of all the light to be obtained from the experience of other States and to provide a law that shall meet the requirements of the case and they certainly can accomplish the desired object

A few days since a caucus of Republican Senators and Representatives was held in Washington to determine whether or not the National Republican Congressional Committee should be disbanded The meeting was not harmonious in all particulars The colored Southern members said that the colored voters would demand and expect the passage of the Civil Rights Bill some of the members wanted the caucus to define the position of the party on the financial question while others requested something decisive on the tariff question. Judge Kelley of Pennsylvania thought that the financial question had brought about such a division that it would be unwise to continue the Committee, and in this opinion he was supported by several influential Republicans. Others said that one duty of the Congressional Committee was to distribute documents (speeches etc) containing sound Republican doctrine They agreed that the division in Congress had reached that point where it would be impossible to speak on the currency and other matters in dispute without offending a large number of influential party leaders The discussion was animated It resulted in a vote continuing the Committee In the course of debate Senator Edmunds & Secretary of the Committee made a report in which he stated that 948 000 documents entitled

What Cracker Knew about the Democratic Party had been circulated during the last Presidential campaign The total expenditure of the Committee in their circulation of documents had been some $1 4 000

The Territorial Government of the District of Columbia has proven rather an expensive affair Its present indebtedness is $9 000 000 And now after the horse has been stolen Congress proposes to shut the stable door vigilantly by abolishing the entire establishment Out goes Boss Shepherd with his Cabinet, his Legislature and his Board of Public Works The Augean stables are to be cleaned—maybe

The dispatches announce the removal of Thomas G Young United States Marshal for Oregon and the appointment of Mr D J Malarkey in his place

The New York Times regrets the resignation of the Indian Commissioners It says "It is a matter of general regret that the members of the Board of Indian Commissioners have seen fit to abandon the work in which they have been engaged with so much profit to the country" Their resignation appears to have been caused by some real or fancied antagonism on the part of the Interior Department to the peace policy which they adopted at the outset and to which they have steadfastly adhered This action of the Commissioners places the Indian problem where it was a few years ago and raises the old question of civilization or extermination The humanity of the age demands that the Government shall persist in the former and enough is known of the President's sentiments on this question to warrant the conclusion that he will not allow his policy to fail from a temporary failure of instruments

The various Boards in and about Washington City are remarkable institutions Up to the present writing two of them have public records First—The Board of Public Works it has saddled a debt of $20 000 000 on the District The last achievement is that of the Board of Health which has reduced the mortality rate of the city from twenty two to fourteen per 1 000 per annum which is a lower rate than exists in any other city of the Union proudly observes a correspondent

The Chicago Tribune finds that the following are specimens of paper bullets that are doing great execution this year

It is quite remarkable—the number of backpaysters who are declining nominations for Congress "Nobody asked you sir" she said —Pittsburg Commercial

Congressmen who grabbed the back pay are hastening to announce their withdrawal from public life They snuff the battle from afar —Memphis Avalanche

Here is a clipping from the New York Times of June 6th which shows that somebody did some wild figuring just after the recent election

> WASHINGTON June 5—Representative Nesmith has received a telegram from Oregon, dated 4th inst, saying Grover for Governor LaDow for Congress and the entire Democratic ticket is elected by nearly 1 000 majority

William G Belknap son of Hon W W Belknap Secretary of War died of consumption at his home in Iowa June 8th He had been an invalid for two years, but his death was so sudden as to be startling to his immediate friends He was in his twentieth year and is spoken of by an Eastern exchange as a young man of unusually bright intellect

A Washington correspondent says that the new Postal bill which permits newspapers to circulate free in the counties of their publication and fixes the rate of postage on news papers at one cent and a half per pound was passed by a vote of 109 yeas to 73 nays No opportunity was offered to present the amendment to fix the postage at one cent

Ex Attorney General Hoar has sued George Washington Bowen for a balance of $5 000 counsel fee for services rendered in the suit of Bowen against Nelson Chase for the recovery of the Jumel property

The Chicago Times refers to "Dick Richardson and Jim Robinson citizens of Illinois as the senile remains of the ancient and bad smelling political prejudice known as the Democratic party

THE ORGAN WANTS A THIRD TERM —Chicago June 9—The Inter Ocean Washington special says the National Republican has a leader canvassing the claims of all the supportable candidates for President but closing with an indorsement of a third term The article is regarded as a furnished and not a haphazard production

"JACK" NOT DEAD.

Mr Dean Blanchard, writing from Rainier under date of the 15th inst, says:

> I notice an item in the papers last week concerning Black Jack who shot a man here a little over two weeks ago and was afterwards found dead in his boat shot through the head These are the facts Black Jack was fishing, here and had some difficulty with his boat puller, and the boat puller hunted around two days trying to hurt him going into Jack's room with an ax where he supposed Jack was asleep but Jack had hunted new lodgings Finally they met and the boat puller attempted to draw a knife which Jack in trying to prevent had his hand cut considerably when he ran out of the house and his boat puller chasing him with the knife drawn fell the fellow through the jaw the ball following in the neck below the ear. Two days afterwards the fellow went to Astoria and had the ball taken out and did not appear to be dangerously hurt though some of his teeth were knocked out and I guess a hole made in his face He however did not want to find Black any more Jack is now living on the river and I saw him yesterday I saw him and thought he looked remarkably well for a man that was found dead in his boat a week before Jack requested me to drop you this line to refute the testimony of his having killed

ANOTHER MUSICAL STAR —We were not aware till yesterday that a new candidate for honors in the musical world was in our midst The Salem Record of Wednesday brought us the intelligence gathered from which we learn that a prominent theatrical company is about to be formed in Salem to appear on evening of the 24th inst The Salem Record says

> The next musical treat that our people will have will be the appearance of Miss Lottie Thielsen a debutante in the musical world who is to appear in this city on the evening of the 24th inst Miss Thielsen is a native of Salem and we would feel entirely justified in saying that she is a prodigy but for her extreme modesty He was elected by a large majority to the position of Justice of the Peace of Mr Wasson Jackson Ward Slaven and Judge Boise were also elected by large majorities Judge Boise will be a terrible loss to the community in which he resides as he has been a resident of Salem for many years and has always been considered one of its most honorable citizens

The Salem Record says that Miss Thielsen is a young lady of great talent and has been under the instruction of Professor Hall of Portland for the past two years and has made rapid progress in her studies Her friends in Salem will be pleased to learn that she has been selected by the Professor to appear in public and that she will be assisted by the best talent in the city

SAIL PANTHER.—Some weeks ago Mr Gilbert, of Portland left here for the purpose of visiting the scene of the wreck of the ship Panther, to ascertain the extent of damages sustained by the vessel, and to determine the feasibility of getting her afloat Mr Final Frank is one of the principal owners of the Panther, and it was at the instance of that gentleman that Mr Gilbert went over Yesterday he returned to Portland He reports that he has successfully landed all the spars and rigging, together with other movable property, and that he is now in a position to take out about 800 tons of coal, which constitutes nearly one-half the vessel's cargo Mr Gilbert has not yet been able to find a market for the coal in Victoria, and it consequently will be shipped to Portland When once the coal is discharged camels will be employed to raise the Panther It is quite probable that by means of these mechanical appliances the stranded vessel can be placed in a position to undergo repairs Two men named William Hudson and Harry Sampson, were recently arrested before one of the Courts on complaint of Mr Gilbert, charged with the offense of breaking into the wrecked vessel and stealing therefrom several articles When the captain discovered underwriter abandoned the Panther they had unfastened the hatches and gave the vessel into the keeping of Constable Sampson On the arrival of Mr Gilbert at the scene he discovered that the ship had been broken into After a patient hearing of the case, Sampson was discharged, but Hudson was held to answer the charge in the sum of $1 000 In a few days Mr Gilbert will return to Victoria

CHINA WEDDING.—On Monday evening a large number of friends of our esteemed fellow citizen, Wm Wadhams, Esq met at the residence of Mr H Thielsen, and after a brief stay repaired to the residence of the former gentleman, and soon the spacious parlors were filled by the throng who had called to tender their congratulations to Mr Wadhams and his lady on the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, and present to them a token of their esteem in the shape of china ware which was fitting on this occasion Among the elegant presents was a set of China consisting of 208 pieces, a silver urn, berry dish, and many other valuable gifts During the evening music was furnished, and social intercourse to an unusual extent was indulged in The guests were provided with a most excellent supper, and the evening passed away enjoyably in good Prominent among the guests were Hon E W Corbett and wife, Hon. W W Upton and wife, Hon Henry Failing, Captain J C Ainsworth and wife, General E B Babbitt and wife, Hon Wm Strong and wife Rev A L Lindsley and wife H Thielsen, Esq and wife, F C Schuyler, Esq and wife, B G Whitehouse Esq and wife, Chas M Carter Esq and wife, J N Dolph Esq, and wife, C W Prindle, Esq, and wife, H W Wakefield, Esq, and wife, W Jackson, Esq, and wife, and others The company retired at a late hour, wishing the host and his lady many happy returns of the day.

DEATH OF AN OLD PRESSMAN.—Among the "dead" in Portland but few men were better known than Thomas Durning, Sr, who for many months was pressman in the Bulletin establishment. Over a year ago Mr Durning left the city and went to San Francisco A number of the S F Bulletin says "Thos Durning, who has been engaged running printing presses in this city and Portland, Oregon, the past nineteen years, was found dead in his bed this morning at the Railroad Lodging House, Commercial street He went to his room from work between eight and nine o'clock last evening and, after a few moments conversation with his room mate, retired to bed. He had suffered from asthma for many years, and he had requested his room mate to awaken him whenever he appeared distressed in his sleep Failing to come to work in the pressroom of Francis & Valentine at the usual hour this morning, an employe was sent to call him up The messenger was unable to arouse him and upon examination discovered that he was dead. The deceased was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and about 50 years of age. He leaves two or three children, residing in this State and Oregon."

PASS HIM ROUND.—A well known gentleman, writing from Glad Tidings, Clackamas county under date of the 14th inst, gives us information concerning a miserable, low villain, who resides in the southeast corner of that county, and who is now roaming at large This fellow supports the name of John Cox A few days ago Cox was detected in the very act of taking improper liberties with the person of a little girl, aged only about 9 years Great indignation was expressed by the child's parents and the neighbors at the conduct of the wretch, and Cox concluded that a change of climate would conduce to his health Accordingly one dark night he "sloped taking away a valuable saddle belonging to a fellow No clue as yet has been obtained of his whereabouts Cox left behind a sick young wife, who is greatly distressed at the cruel and inexcusable conduct of her husband Some creditors are also much pained at the sudden disappearance of the absconding Cox That others may know what kind of a man he is our correspondent desires us to "pass him around."

FAMOUS EFFORT.—Yesterday we were shown a private letter written from Salem to a well known gentleman of this city The letter spoke in very eulogistic terms of the manner in which our young and promising attorney, John M Gearin Esq conducted the defense of the half-breed Gerand who was tried for his life in the Circuit Court of Marion county, the present week. The writer states that the plea before the jury in behalf of the defendant was a fine forensic effort, and characterized it as the ablest criminal appeal which has been made for years in the Court House Mr Gearin is a young man of more than ordinary talent. He was elected one of the Representatives on the People's ticket from Multnomah county, and has only been practicing law 6 months. That he has thus distinguished himself will be a source of pride and gratification to his numerous friends

DR. LEE'S MEDICAL STAR.—We were not aware till yesterday that a new candidate for honors in the musical world was in our midst. The Salem Record of Wednesday last, gives us the intelligence (go away from home for news) that a prominent gentleman of this city would assist in Prof Francis Concert, to be held in Salem to morrow evening The gentleman never did anything in that line from it—and we would mention his name but for his extreme modesty He was recently elected by a large majority to the position of Justice of the Peace of Morrison precinct, which shows his popularity But we are gone too far and fear we have almost told our readers who the person referred to is We hesitate the Judge will decline participating in the proposed Concert The numerous friends of the Judge will appreciate the joke

THE LECTURE.—We regret to announce that a small but very intelligent audience was present last evening at Masonic Hall to hear Lewis Chapin lecture on the subject of Woman's Sphere Before the talented lecturer was introduced the audience was favored with an instrumental overture on the organ by Messrs George I Dellmans and H Salem and vocal selection by the Amphion Miss Chapin was then introduced by Dr T L Eliot and proceeded to discuss the subject announced She spoke for nearly an hour and handled the subject in an able and masterly manner Throughout Miss Chapin was listened to with unflagging interest and attention Miss Chapin is a brilliant and fascinating speaker, and we hope that she may be induced to repeat the lecture at an early day

CRUSADING.—The Crusaders made a fresh start yesterday afternoon, and among the first places they visited was the Webfoot Saloon The proprietor being present it was expected—and rightly, too—that he would make some demonstration during the brief period the ladies remained in front of his saloon The Crusaders had taken up a position but a few moments ere a quantity of firecrackers were thrown among them, which went off pretty promiscuously for a while The ladies did not appear to mind it much and fulfilled the time allotted—a half an hour at each saloon The smoke had scarcely cleared away when they crossed the street and stopped at the Occidental and other saloons further north Of course the scene at the Webfoot moved decorum to assemble who watched the movements of the Crusaders, during their exercises at each place with greater interest than has been manifested for a long time As long as the ladies were not opposed in any way there was nothing to attract much attention as the excitement attending the presence of the band gradually waning

HULL & STRAWBERRIES.—Mr C LaDu that prince of strawberry cultivators who resides at Mt Coffin on the Lower Columbia, has placed on our table a box of the delicious berries Without exception these strawberries are the largest we have yet seen in the markets In proportions they are literally huge some of them being but little smaller than an ordinary hen's egg These berries we learn, were not selected but were gathered indiscriminately and may be regarded as "average samples" of the crop Mr LaDu offers large quantities of his berries for sale in this city They can be found at the store of Mr C S Silver on First street, No 193 If persons are incredulous, they can easily call and inspect the stock for their own satisfaction

EXPRESSING THANKS.—The committee under whose auspices the entertainment at Oro Fino Theater was given on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the First Congregational Church, take this method of expressing their sincere thanks for the services so generously offered and freely given by the numerous ladies and gentlemen who participated on that occasion and especially to Mr DePlans under whose efficient management the entertainment proved so successful

EXCURSION.—Our friends over in Vancouver will take part in an excursion and basket picnic to the Cascades on the 24th inst The steamer Onconta will carry the excursionists An opportunity is offered to Portlanders to join the excursion party At Vancouver the 21st Infantry Band will take passage and during the day furnish excellent music. The proceeds will be applied to the building fund of St Luke's Church at Vancouver

GERMAN SCHOOL PICNIC.—The fourth annual picnic of the Independent German School will take place next Sunday at Koos Villa, on the B street road Tickets purchased for last Sunday will be good for the day announced above

BASE BALL

Why can't the plucky Crescents try the Arcadians or Pioneers? They have done well and will give the tyee clubs all they can do to win.

Somebody has been playing the College club A challenge from the Waterloo club, of Oregon City, reached the College club a few days ago That club accepted and advised N E Randall, of Oregon City from whom the challenge purported to have come That gentleman says there is no such club at the Falls city, and that he never wrote the challenge The missive was evidently written by a joker

It is about time we should hear more of the proposed game between the Arcadians and Pioneers We understood Saturday the 20th, was the day the game was to be played How does it happen under the circumstances, that the Pioneers have agreed to play the Occidentals, of Vancouver We hope these big clubs will fix conclusions without any unnecessary wrangling Talking on paper is not the way to settle the business We do not propose to devote any space for that purpose Come to time boys and let the lovers of the noble game see which club is the best of the two

TEMPERANCE PETITION

A petition from the Ladies Temperance Alliance as follows was read and laid upon the table

A number of ladies of the city of Portland, being desirous of throwing their influence upon the side of temperance and having met several times and consulted together resolved to organize under the name of The Ladies Temperance Alliance of the city of Portland

Being deeply impressed with the magnitude of the evils of intemperance in our community and earnestly desiring the intervention of the law for their reduction the Alliance adopted the following form of petition to the Mayor and Common Council It has already received the hearty endorsement of numerous gentlemen citizens of Portland

To the Honorable the Mayor and the Common Council of the city of Portland —The undersigned inhabitants of the city of which you are the constituted and responsible guardians beg leave very respectfully to represent

That we are profoundly impressed with the dangers and exposures incident to the existing regulations pertaining to the traffic in intoxicating liquors in this city

That we are informed by legal gentlemen that the License Law of Portland virtually repeals the salutary checks imposed by the License Law of the State

That the payment of a fee purchases the privilege of sale without restriction or regulation in short without any condition what ever

That the unrestrained traffic exposes all classes to evils which are in some measure guarded against in the majority of the other cities in our country

That the moral sentiment of the age demands restraint rather than excessive or unbridled privilege

That the maxims an I deductions of political economy clearly condemn the immoderate use of such drinks as well as the impolicy of attempting to derive a revenue from an immoral traffic or a traffic conducted immorally

That privilege involves responsibility and therefore all vendors should be held by the law to a just accountability for the consequences of the traffic

That the guardians of the public peace and welfare should remove temptation from the people—make the practice of virtue easy and vice difficult and especially throw the palladium of the law around the young and the defenseless

We, therefore, your petitioners pray—

1 That the law of this city in reference to licensing the sale of intoxicating liquors be so amended that no license be granted unless the conditions precedent in the license law of the State of Oregon be fully complied with especially that no license be granted except upon a petition signed by the prescribed number of legal voters of the ward in which such spirituous liquors are sought to be sold

2 That the law of this State prohibiting the opening of liquor shops and the sale of liquors on Sundays, and the law prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors to minors be rigidly enforced

3 That every house or room in which spirituous liquor is kept for retail be required to be closed at 10 o'clock P M and also closed on all election days from the opening of the polls to the closing of the same throughout the city

4 That no license be issued to any woman, that no girl or woman be allowed to sell liquor under any license whatever and that all traffic in intoxicating liquors in rooms or places of immoral character or ill repute be strictly prohibited

BALLS AND PARTIES.

When we say the Washington Guard entertained their friends at Armory Hall last evening you may depend upon it that the hall was crowded and what seemed more gratifying to the Company was that a large proportion of their guests were composed of the fair sex, who appeared in gay summer attire finished off with gay ribbons presenting to the opposite sex a most charming appearance We dropped in at 11 o clock, and at that hour the participants had fairly become at home in the old hall that has been the scene of so many pleasant gatherings Parrott Gray and Larrish were prominent figures in the orchestral department, the latter directing the movements of dancers who were 'on the square' And we must not forget that the other Companies were largely represented many appearing in full uniform For conclusion we grant that the affair of last evening was the most enjoyable ever held in the old Armory by the Washington Guard We wish them many such pleasant reunions wherever it may be their lot to locate for the future

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

Yesterday the Grand Jury which has been in session two weeks having concluded its labors was discharged by the court The following is the report of the Grand Jury

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah By the Hon W W Upton Judge of said Court

We the Grand Jury empannelled at the June term of the above entitled court for the year 1874 do respectfully report that in compliance with our instructions we have otherwise visited the various public places of confinement within this county We find that the Asylum for the Insane is in excellent condition The premises were well arranged and neat The officers in charge uniformly kind and courteous One hundred and ninety three patients are now confined in the institution The county and city jails situated in this city seem to be well conducted and prisoners confined therein properly cared for The Poor Farm belonging to this county situated on the Canyon road some three miles west of this city is a model of thrift and neatness Its managers have been striving to make it a self-sustaining institution and the prospects of its becoming so are distinct and are encouraging The contrast between the farm as it now appears and its condition four years ago is very flattering

We beg leave to suggest that in the course of numerous investigations of criminal charges which we have been called upon to make we are led to the conclusion that a large proportion of the crimes both of petty and of grave importance committed in this county may be traced directly or indirectly to disreputable saloons which are either kept by women or wherein women are employed

These places in question are too often the scenes of crimes ranging from petty larceny to murder Believing that the peace and good order of this community would be subserved thereby, we therefore suggest that in future the proper authorities should take such measures as will result in the refusal of licenses to all saloons beer cellars etc, kept by women or in which women are employed

All of which is respectfully submitted

IN AFRICA

BY JOAQUIN MILLER

A slave and old within her veins
There runs that warm forbidden blood
That no man dares [illegible] dignify
In elevated song The chains
That held her race but yesterday
Hold still the hands of men [illegible]
Is Ethiop The turbid flood
Of prejudice lies stagnant still
And all the world is tainted Will
And wit lie broken as a lance
Against the brazen mailed face
Of old opinion

None advance
Steel clad and glad to the attack
With trumpet and with song [illegible]
Beneath yon pyramids lie hid
The histories of her great race
With all his secrets

Who shall say
My father reared a pyramid
My brother clipped the dragon's wings
My mother was Semiramis?
Yea harps strike idly out of place
Men sing of savage Saxon kings
New born and known but yesterday

Nay ye who boast ancestral name
And vaunt deeds dignified by time
Must not despise her Who hath worn
Since time began a face that is
So all enduring old like this—
A face like Africa's?

Behold
The Sphinx is Africa The bond
Of silence is upon her Old
And white with tombs and rent and shorn
And trampled on yet all untamed
All naked now yet not ashamed—
The mistress of the young, world's prime
Sleeps satisfied upon her fame
Beyond the Sphinx and still beyond
Beyond the tawny desert tomb
Of Time beyond tradition loom
And lift ghost like from out the gloom
Her thousand cities battle-torn
And gray with story and with time

She points a hand and cries "Go read
The granite obelisks that lord
Old Rome and know my name and deed
My archives these, and plundered when I had grown weary of all men"
We turn to these we cry Abhorred
Old Sphinx, behold we cannot read

THE WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

THE MARRIAGE OF MISS NELLIE GRANT—A QUIET AND PLEASANT OCCASION AT THE EXECUTIVE MANSION

[From the N Y Tribune]

The arrangements for the marriage of Miss Grant was as quiet and unostentatious as possible, considering the position of the family and the ceremonies at the White House to-day were intended to be of the simplest character The whole management of details was left to the good judgment and quiet taste of Mrs Grant, and there is probably no lady in Washington society more simple and considerate in her hospitality, combining good cheer with dignity and discrimination, than the present lady of the White House

The late bereavement in the family occasioned by the death of Judge Dent together with the natural desire of the family of the President, was sufficient to suggest and make becoming a quiet marriage of their daughter with the young Englishman The arrangements and ceremonies were well planned to secure this object, but they were carried out with such precision, skill, and liberality that the wedding is to-night regarded as the most unostentatious, that ever occurred here The good taste of it is generally commended and the conduct of those having the details in charge is spoken of with high favor

The time for the ceremonies was set at 11 o clock The guests had already gathered in the East room The Marine Band of 40 pieces was in position in the hall The gates of the grounds had been closed to the uninvited The rooms had been most richly dressed in flowers, which filled the windows, festooned the walls, wreathed the columns, covered the mantels and tables, hung from chandeliers, and formed arches in the doorways, making a picture to be long remembered The platform for the happy pair had been set in the center of the eastern side of the room, against the large window The grand hall had been thrown open, and the attendants stood, watches in hand, ready to give the signal The distinguished guests were gathered on either side of the dais, the groups reaching to the doors of the grand hall White ribbons wreathed with flowers had been stretched on either side of the aisle thus formed, and at precisely 11 o clock, to the music of the Wedding March, the participants passed from the hall into the parlor, and between the brilliant assembly parted on either side Mr Sartoris and his 'best man,' Col Fred. Grant, led the way, followed by the minister, the Rev. Dr Tiffany and the President attending his daughter These proceeded to the dais, the music ceasing at the exact instant they arrived It was a very pretty spectacle Mr Sartoris and Col Grant reached the platform first the former to the north, the latter to the south Mr Sartoris turned his face to the aisle to watch for the coming bride, and as the President stepped his foot upon the platform he surrendered his precious charge forever to other hands

The ceremony was impressive and to the President and Mrs Grant appeared most touching To the bride and groom it appeared simply as a matter of ceremony having no particular significance The bride was in a particularly bright humor, her face being less serious than that of the groom The rites were much like those of the Episcopal Church although Dr Tiffany is a Methodist and pastor of the Metropolitan Church where the President worships. The answers were given by the young couple in a clear, audible tone and as the minister said, after taking their hands, 'With the exchange of these rings you enter upon a new life with new responsibilities under God [illegible] was deep feeling among the spectators The words were soon spoken that joined their lives in one

Dr Tiffany was the first to salute the bride, being followed by the President Col Grant and other relatives The floral decorations of the public rooms of the White House were marvelous in their beauty and profusion Above the platform there were the heaviest festoons of the whitest flowers, tube-roses lilies of the valley, spiræa, and other choice varieties lending a perfume to the room that was almost oppressive in its sweetness Above the heads of the couple, suspended by a thread of flowers was a large bell formed wholly of the rarest of white flowers—a present, it is said, from New York friends In the green room a bank of the same rare flowers were formed on an oval table. A stand of pot plants, most exquisite in their beauty and arrangement reached from one side of the East room to the ceiling, and, wherever flowers and evergreens could be placed, there they were

The dress of the bride is spoken of by the ladies with much admiration It is described as a mass of satin lace, and orange blossoms, as fleecy and airy in its appearance as though it were made of swan's down Her catalogue of new and fine dresses is said to number forty and it was said by a lady whose knowledge is beyond all criticism that Nellie Grant takes with her the finest trousseau that ever went out of Washington Half a dozen of the ladies present said her wedding dress was the handsomest they ever saw Its material was white satin, the richest that could be found It was trimmed with Brussels lace of the costliest character a present from her father who imported it for the purpose The bridesmaids were also in white Mrs Grant was dressed in black tissue silk richly embroidered The ladies present were all richly attired and the company being rather small, the opportunity for display was unusual

The wedding breakfast was served after the presents had been received It was a source of regret and surprise that none of the relatives of Mr Sartoris were present and so far as known, they sent no present to the bride They are in mourning for their eldest son but it is understood that the most extensive arrangements are being made by Mr Sartoris's family and personal friends to give his bride a welcome to which her position and parentage entitle her and one that will do much to warm her heart toward the land which must henceforth be her home

The President was asked to day if he was [illegible] to part with his only daughter He [illegible] she can visit us often enough [illegible] how often would you like her to visit [illegible] said the lady [illegible] to visit us twice a year [illegible] and stay six months at a time [illegible] It is expected that they will return [illegible] some time during the fall for a short visit, perhaps to stay all winter Mr Sartoris has large landed estates in this country and it was while he was coming to the United States to look after his property that he met [illegible] for the first time on the steamer

The entire tax imposed upon the people of Walla Walla county for Territorial and local purposes for the year 1874, foots up the neat little sum of $124.59

Grain Statistics and Prices

The old crop of wheat on this coast is now well nigh exhausted and but few more ships, perhaps not to exceed half a dozen, will load with this cereal the present harvest year in both California and our own State The question of the demand for the large crops now nearly ready to be harvested is interesting the people much more than present rates As effecting the future of the market we collate from the last number of the Produce Exchange a weekly publication of New York which is taken everywhere as good authority as to the supplies in the various grain centers of the world The supply in the United Kingdom during the four weeks ending April 25th was 4,8 6,0 qrs less than the consumption including 6,9 062 qrs from imports The expected supply from cargoes in transit in four weeks is 657,000 qrs from which should be deducted whatever may be taken from ports of call for the Continent and to which should be added the imports of steamers from America in four weeks both of which latter are unknown quantities to be determined by the facts

The farmers deliveries of home grown Wheat in the 1,50 towns in England and Wales for the week ended May 2 1874 were 43,6,0 qrs at an average price of 62s 1d per qr against 54,978 qrs for the corresponding week in 1873 at an average price 54s 1d, and against an average of the corresponding weeks of the last ten years of 58,626 qrs at an average price of 54s 2d per qr

The consumption in the United Kingdom during the eight weeks from March 1st to April 1 th inclusive is placed at 3,354,000 qrs against 2,6 2,227 qrs, supply from imports and home deliveries indicating a deficiency in eight weeks of about 72 7 3 qrs or 5,774 185 bushels

The supply for the week ended May 2 1874 comprising the farmers deliveries [illegible] wn wheat in the kingdom, plus the imports minus the exports was equal in flour and wheat to 357 289 qrs against 400,000 qrs minimum and 425,000 qrs maximum weekly consumption

The exports from the United Kingdom for the week ended May 2 1874, were—Flour, 1 792 cwts, wheat 19 737 cwts maize 5 938 cwts oats 63 cwts; barley 297 cwts peas 10 cwts beans, 5 938 cwts, Total 23,462 cwts

There were on the 9th inst , equal to 1,112,496 qrs of wheat, and 2 1,337 qrs of corn in transit for the United Kingdom exclusive of steamer shipments from America and sail and steamer shipments from the Baltic, of which it is expected there will have have arrived in four weeks from the 9th of May 788 000 qrs of wheat and 224 000 qrs of maize
